

U. S. ACTION
IS REGRETTED
IN GERMANY

FOREIGN SECRETARY ZIMMERMAN DECLARES THERE IS NO REAL REASON FOR A SERIOUS BREAK.

ADDRESS NON-HOSTILE

German People, He Declares, Appreciate Wilson's Assurances That He Wishes "No Hostile Conflict" With Germany.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Berlin, Feb. 6.—(Associated Press.)—Although late this afternoon no official confirmation had reached Berlin that relations with the United States had been broken off, the text of President Wilson's address to congress removed all doubt in the mind of the general public as to the exactness of earlier private information.

Foreign Secretary Zimmermann made the following statement to the Overseas News Agency:

"We regret this measure taken by President Wilson. Having no more shared our traditions and all international law, we are cut off from all direct communication and regular intercourse with the trans-Atlantic world. The United States, we must realize, during the last months and years of the war have cared for German interests by proxy in several host countries with efficiency and great success."

The text of the president's message in absence of other official documents, has therefore been examined most minutely. Having no more shared our traditions and all international law, we are cut off from all direct communication and regular intercourse with the trans-Atlantic world. The United States, we must realize, during the last months and years of the war have cared for German interests by proxy in several host countries with efficiency and great success."

"While we think to a certain extent that we can see by what reasons the United States government has adopted this attitude, on the other hand we expect that President Wilson, to the same extent, may recognize the reasons which prompted us to take this decision."

"No Hostile Feeling."
Berlin, via London, Feb. 6.—What may be their feeling toward the United States, Germans in Berlin and elsewhere have been asked to consider since the news was received of the breaking off of diplomatic relations. From an official German government, no act of a hostile or unfriendly nature has been reported thus far, and many Germans are of the opinion that they will show a friendly disposition toward Americans notwithstanding.

The only difficulty which has been reported thus far has been at one of the headquarters of police, which is charged with vizing passports to go abroad. Officials of the passport department refused to vize passports until the German government had shown its intention to vize American travel tickets to America. On the other hand, police in the main residential district are accepting "return" passports as an adequate reason for not vizing them, and are insisting that the customary interval of a fortnight for military investigation of the application cannot be waived.

Courtesy to those to which the American newspaper correspondents in a way are accredited, has shown every disposition to facilitate the departure of such correspondents as are willing to leave without Ambassador Gerard, expediting the formalities of the immediate departure of such families as are leaving immediately. The foreign office has expressed desire to have many American correspondents as possible remaining after the departure of the ambassador in order to maintain unofficial relations between the two peoples as long as the war is avoided. The remark of a German woman to an American woman, a stranger to her, who happened to be standing in the same food line this morning, "We wish to see your way out of this war," apparently is the keynote of a majority of Germans.

PROPOSED IN BILL
BY MILWAUKEE MAN

The senate confirmed the recent appointment of Carroll Atwood as tax commissioner for the term ending May, 1919.

Bray—Providing methods of seizure of illegally sold foods and drugs.

Bray—Requiring that sealed goods in packages be stamped to show its contents.

In a short session the senate, presided over by Senator Fred Baxley of Superior, introduced a bill for women under the age of 21 years. Under a recent decision of the supreme court now has that industrial commission now has that power.

In the assembly, Everett offered a resolution to amend the constitution providing for a cabinet system of state government. The governor is to be elected for a four year term with power to appoint the attorney general, state treasurer and secretary of state, who shall be members of his cabinet. Assemblyman Ryan introduced a bill for a one mile dry zone around any city which has voted wet. Resolutions memorializing the deaths of William F. Wolfe, La Crosse and F. Nash, Two Rivers, were adopted.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

It is also announced that the German submarine U-45 fired five shots at the American steamship Westwego on January 31st, but none took effect.

Washington, Feb. 6.—State department officials reiterated today that sailings of American ships to the war zone still were questioned for private individuals, and the government had taken no action, although a statement of its attitude may be issued soon for their guidance. It was also reiterated there was no change in the status of war-bound German ships in American ports. Although the authorities have taken possession of them to prevent destruction or dangers to navigation, they still are German private property and will be so respected.

An official report of the sinking of the steamer Evestone and the killing of an American seaman, reached the state department today from Consul Frost at Queenstown. The ship was a provisional British collier.

Consul Frost's message said: "Provisional British collier, Evestone, sunk by shell fire from German submarine in the vicinity of Fastnet Rock, Ireland, February 4. American negro, able seaman, Richard Wallace of Baltimore, killed during shelling of boat after having just left Evestone. Details not yet available."

CUT DOWN WASH
TO AID ENGLAND

London, Feb. 6.—The question "Is the nation washing too much in war time?" is emphasized over one of the last sessions of the National Economy Exhibition here, under the patronage of the Duke of Connaught. The booth aims to impress on the British housewife that every possible saving in laundry work is a step toward winning the war. "Men should wear soft collars," it is urged, "and women might wear darker and more serviceable dresses, changing their clothes only for their freshest for a day or two."

The reasons for economy in laundry work are two-fold, according to First promoters of the exhibition. First, laundry work calls for valuable labor which might be more usefully employed. Second, washing involves the expenditure of money, fuel, time and soap—all of the highest importance to war time.

"The society woman is the worst offender in the matter of laundry bills," says the speaker, "and she is hereby instructed to at once wire the president of the United States that the people of Wisconsin have implicit confidence in him and will loyally support him."

The speaker, who is the president of the assembly and the president of the senate, is hereby instructed to at once wire the president of the United States that the people of Wisconsin have implicit confidence in him and will loyally support him."

He was taken to jail and a few hours afterward expressed a desire to take out citizenship papers. He was permitted to do so and was then released from jail.

New Hampshire Acts.

Concord, N. H., Feb. 6.—The New Hampshire legislature today adopted a resolution endorsing the action of President Wilson in severing diplomatic relations with Germany.

BALKS PLAN TO ENDORSE
PRESIDENT

ASSEMBLYMAN HART OF OSH-KOSH PREVENTS ADOPTION OF RESOLUTION IN STATE ASSEMBLY.

ISSUE IS POSTPONED

Matter Will Come Up Again for Consideration Tonight or Tomorrow With Prospects of Further Exciting Discussion.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 6.—The aid of Illinois in the international crisis with Germany was pledged to the president of the United States today by the fifth Illinois general assembly.

Governor Lowden spoke before both houses of the assembly meeting in joint session, and urged upon the members the resolution pledging Illinois support.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 6.—An objection from Assemblyman E. A. Everett of Eagle River, administration floor leader, last night's session of the assembly, delayed the consideration of a resolution offered by Assemblyman Edward Nordman, Polk, commending President Wilson and noting that "the people of Wisconsin have implicit confidence in him and will loyally support him."

The whole house was on tip-toe when the resolution was offered. Word had gone out that there would be opposition to the passage of such a resolution and that this opposition would be led by Assemblyman Charles C. Hart, Oshkosh, who was expected to object that the resolution was a full endorsement.

"Apparently they did not wish to face the issue at this time," was the only comment afterwards of Assemblyman Hart, who said he would probably come up again either at a late session Tuesday, but probably not until Wednesday. The resolution to which Assemblyman Hart objects, provides:

"Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, that the speaker of the assembly and the president of the senate be and they are hereby instructed to at once wire the president of the United States that the people of Wisconsin have implicit confidence in him and will loyally support him."

The opposition which Assemblyman Hart intends to offer to the resolution is based on the idea that the president would be solely to blame for the war, if one occurred in that he had not placed an embargo on arms exports which the German people of this state is indicated by a statement which he issued in 1914 in which he declared that "the German-Americans of Wisconsin require no special treatment in the matter of patriotism. He says that the German people are said and that they are hereby instructed to at once wire the president of the United States that the people of Wisconsin have implicit confidence in him and will loyally support him."

"If, however, Germany is now in the attitude of wishing to provoke a quarrel with this country," says the speaker, "the German people of Wisconsin may be relied upon to respond to the call of our country as freely as with as much patriotic sentiment as these citizens whose names come from other countries. Our German population can be relied upon to join in the states' response to the president's call to meet and will do her full duty in time of need."

Endorse Hart's Stand.
That ninety percent of the people of Manitowish county are back of the movement to endorse President Wilson's statement "that we must make it our policy to defeat an endorsement of war, was the message brought here today in a telegram from John C. Schmidman of Manitowish. Mr. Hart received three telegrams from Manitowish county today commending him in the stand he has taken.

Robert O'H wired Mr. Hart that he heartily supported him. He recorded in a telegram to President Wilson's war measures. O'H said he voiced the sentiment of the community in doing so. Rinehardt, Rehr wired Mr. Hart: "May you be successful in your efforts to misrepresent Wisconsin at Washington as favoring our entry into the European war."

"It would be an outrage to place our state on record as favoring in the least degree any step directly or indirectly making ourselves a party to a war of blood and tears already devastating half the world."

Schmidman wired Mr. Hart: "Ninety percent of your people are behind you in your efforts to defeat endorsement of war. In less than an hour eighteen representatives, bankers, lawyers and business men here asking our congressmen and senators to resist plunging this great nation into the war which we did not start. I have not found one man who does not want this country to keep out of the horrible conflict."

Mr. Hart said that he is much encouraged and will do all possible to defeat the Nordman resolution endorsing the president's stand when it comes up for consideration.

Native German Indignant.
Oshkosh, Feb. 6.—To Charles F. Hart, Assemblyman, Madison, Wisconsin: "From reading your article in newspapers today, I would understand you are more a subject of the Kaiser than of the United States of America. Men of your type are in great demand in Germany. Better resign from the assembly and go with the Kaiser. Signed, Anton Groth."

The above telegram, which was sent last night, was a result of Assemblyman Hart's declaration that President Wilson and ammunition makers are responsible if war with Germany comes, and he would oppose a legislative resolution endorsing the president's action in severing diplomatic relations. The sender of the telegram is a tailor here, a German-American. Hart does not represent sentiment of his district in his position and most Germans in this country will stand by the United States.

TWO SCORE INJURED
AS SPEEDING TRAIN
ROLLS INTO DITCH

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Walnut, Ill., Feb. 6.—Two score persons were injured at least one, Ira Albrecht of Olenia, Iowa, fatally, when Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific train No. 7, westbound, Chicago to Denver, was wrecked two miles east of here, 10:15 o'clock last night. The train was rounding a curve at forty-five miles an hour, when the rails spread and five coaches hurtled down a 40 foot embankment, then a ditch. The wreck almost immediately burst into flames, started by a stove in the smoking car. The flames were extinguished after the smoking car had been burned.

Occupants of the two wrecked Pullmans were thrown from the falling cars or dragged out of the wreckage by rescuers, and exposed to zero temperature and only in their night clothes. The injured were carried on blankets to relief train 300 yards from the accident, which arrived shortly after the wreck from Atlantic City.

All of the wrecked cars were of steel, and only demolished fixtures furnished fuel.

It was not until early this morning that the fate of the injured had been housed in a hotel or hospital in Atlantic.

BIG WAR LIBRARY
MADE BY FRANCE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Paris, Feb. 6.—The Division of Archives at the front has gathered more than 7,000 big cases of documents for the use of historians of the war. The material is being gathered up in the front lines, and it is done with such fastidious pains that all the future historians will have to do is to name the subject or the operations he is studying to get a complete record.

Besides these archives to the military operations, red tape methods have required the different units in the beginning of the war. A single division of cavalry was called upon for 568,000 reports and statistical documents in two years; not one of them referred to the action of the division in battle or at the front.

These statistics are being used by the enemies of the republic to foment a revolt against them.

General Carranza Reported to Have Sent Best Wishes to Kaiser—Holland and Brazil Protest German Policy.

BULLETIN.

London, Feb. 6.—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam quotes the Telegram as saying that a wireless telegram has appeared in the German papers stating that General Carranza has sent his best wishes to the German Emperor from Queretaro.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington, Feb. 6.—Spain's taking over of American interests in Germany, and Switzerland's similar action for Germany, are being interpreted as removing both these neutrals from participation in the break in relations. Spain is the largest neutral now, absolutely free from entanglement in the war, and is by far the best equipped diplomatically to serve as intermediary between the belligerent groups.

Holland Makes Protest.
The Hague, via London, Feb. 6.—It is known that Holland has protested strongly against Germany's decree of unrestricted submarine warfare, but the press explains the protest as a protest against Germany's action. The foreign office refuses to give any details as to the course adopted by the administration while expressing the fullest confidence in the government, complaints that the country does not know what the standpoint of the administration is. President Wilson's statement in regard to other neutral powers, following the example of the United States, and asks whether the protest is a protest against Germany's action, or merely supposition. It adds:

"We do not know the attitude nor the action of our government on the question of unrestricted submarine warfare, but it may conceivably view matters from a different angle to that of the United States."

The Courier compares America's abundance of grain, coal and steel with Holland's scarcity of these articles, all of which she must import. Holland's contiguous position to Germany, with an open eastern frontier, as compared with America's remoteness from the war arena.

Brazil's Note Ready.
Rio de Janeiro, Feb. 6.—The Journal do Commercio will publish Brazil's note to Germany tomorrow, apparently having received it from an official source. The note will be published after it has been sent to Berlin. Several American countries have already been informed of the attitude of Brazil. The Journal says that the note will deal with armaments, the interests of international law and the interests of Brazil. The paper adds that the Brazilian government will act with prudence and with no intention of provoking any conflict.

"Brazil," concludes the Journal, "has never entered and will never enter into such a struggle unless forced into it by the action of another."

London, Feb. 6.—Switzerland, says a Bern dispatch given out by the Wireless Press today, has been badly shaken by President Wilson's invitation to follow the lead of the United States in breaking off diplomatic relations with Germany.

RHEIMS CATHEDRAL
FALLING IN RUINS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Rheims, France, Feb. 6.—From the top and then rain, have caused the plaster to become loose from the arches of the famous cathedral which, earlier in the war, was badly damaged by fire from German shells. Large pieces are falling constantly and are strewn about the stone floor, particularly in the side aisles. In the nave there are large pools of water. The French government is being requested to hasten work of protecting and repairing certain portions of the cathedral.

Cardinal Luçon, archbishop of Rheims, is now in the city, devoted to aiding people whose homes have been destroyed by the German bombardment and distributing supplies.

Many packages and cases for the poor come directly from the United States from the individual donors, and Cardinal is kept busy acknowledging these gifts.

THOUGHTS TO THINK ABOUT.

Who taught the lark to sing its carol and who did show the winds to blow? Nature put the stamp of individuality on everything it did make—all beautiful and useful.

You can never enjoy your own joys when you fail to impart some good to another's heart.

Opinion should not be adopted and believed because held to by wise men of long ago; ideals of the tallow candle age should not be the idols of men today.

FARM WEEK PROGRAM ATTRACTS HUNDREDS TO STATE CAPITAL

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Feb. 6.—Wisconsin's fourteenth annual farm week opened here Monday. Farmers and farm workers engaged in the various lines of farming carried on in the state are assembling in the Capital for their annual conferences.

There have been cleared for action by the College of Agriculture, and available person on the staff, as well as all of the service of the large number of visitors who are arriving nearly every county in the state.

Two special delegations are expected today, one from Lewis Clark county, and the other from Elkhorn, Walworth and Jefferson counties. The delegations will be made up of representatives of the various farm products, and will be accompanied by addresses on the various lines of farming and management have attracted large crowds of farmers and stockmen from the winter session.

Big Sales of Interest.
Two big consignments of pure bred hogs will be an item of considerable interest to all students of animal husbandry.

The Wisconsin Poland breeders' association and the Wisconsin Duroc Jersey breeders' association have their officers already on the grounds, taking care of the valuable animals from all parts of the state for these sales.

Daily market quotations on the live stock prices will be posted on a large bulletin board, bulletins being furnished by one of the live stock publications located in the Union stock yards.

This feature is making a hit with scores of the visiting delegations, who are vitally interested in the scale of live stock prices at the primary market.

Centering around the main convention of the Wisconsin Live Stock breeders' association, the live stock organization, among the breeders, are four state beef breed clubs, five state swine breed associations, four dairy breed societies, and the state horse and sheep breeders' association, respectively.

Today is beef and sheep day at the college of agriculture with special programs including addresses by W. L. Carlyle, dean of the Oklahoma Agricultural college; W. S. Tasker, commission man and cattle feeder, Chicago; W. C. Coffey, sheep specialist, Illinois Agricultural college, and hundreds of middle western wool and mutton makers.

Tomorrow is set aside for the benefit of swine breeders and dealers. Even the "ultimate consumer" is promised a treat by attending the exposition in the stock pavilion devoted to exhibits of the details and side lines of this mammoth industry. George Van Norman, Chicago stock yards dealer; A. M. Ladd, Prairie du Chien; L. J. Martin, Chippewa Falls; James Fisher, Eastman; and F. B. Morrison, assistant director of the Wisconsin station, will speak.

Grain Growers Demonstrate.
Secretary R. A. Moore of the state experiment station is directing the planning of the large grain and forage crop exposition, made up of hundreds of individual samples sent in by members of the fifty-two orders of this growing organization of pure bred seed producers.

Competition for the ten silver trophy cups offered permanently to the farmers who win them three years in succession is more keen this year than ever before. Entries in the honorary class, limited to so-called "professionals" who have won numerous prizes at former shows, are numerous and of excellent quality. Under the new ruling that ten-acre samples of the four principal corn varieties must be entered from two divisions of the state, the northern section, and the southern section, a better chance is given the farmers whose corn must contend against a shorter growing season.

The largest exhibit of corn ever shown at any exposition of the association is the result of this change. Alfalfa growers are assembling to discuss the important phases of winter-killing, which in the past two seasons has done much to hinder the development of this league in Wisconsin.

Special Courses Well Filled.
Every one of the special side line courses offered to men who are practical training in certain particular lines have proved highly successful, according to the first day's enrollment.

A "full house" is reported by those in charge of the gas engine and tractor school, where more than fifty farmers are working in jumpers, and with monkey-wrench and oil can, to learn why mechanical servants sometimes balk.

The advance guard of the small army of school boys who will compete in the annual juvenile stock judging "classic" to be held here this week, are arriving and registering with the officials in charge. Judging will start tomorrow, with at least twenty-five teams of three men each in the ring. The finals will be announced late in the week.

Women from all parts of Wisconsin are finding out new things in their constructive study of home economy in time, labor, fuel, and food value, as well as taking new interest in child welfare, sewing, household crafts and home decoration. The short courses will be given throughout the entire week, no registration fees being charged.

Spraying, pruning and cultural suggestions are being discussed by a large group of Wisconsin farmers, as well as taking new interest in the growing of orchard and small fruits. Practical work in packing apples is being given in connection to a large class of interested men.

Much interest in Rural Ethics.

Material welfare questions do not exclude the consideration of many large moral, social, and educational problems at the farm week. ## BOWLING ALLEYS DESIRE TO OPEN SUNDAYS, 1 TO 6

And Petition Signed By 171 Enthusiasts of the Sport Ask Commission to Make New Ordinance.

What its backers claim as just the thing to eliminate a "hanging around" on Sunday afternoons, but which the advocates of a "closed" Sabbath refute with the argument that it is better to throw things "wide open" in general in Janesville on the first day of the week, has appeared at the city hall in the form of a big petition that the ordinance governing bowling alleys be revamped to permit activity at the sport on Sundays. The list has been filed with City Clerk J. P. Hammarlund. It was scheduled to be presented to the commission at their regular meeting this afternoon.

The petition asks that the city ordinance be so revised to permit bowling alleys to open on the first day of the week, from 1 to 6, and six o'clock each Sunday afternoon. Archie Newell and Walter Flaherty, who recently took over the Leider and Grant store in the Railroad Hotel Annex, were behind the movement originally, although all alley proprietors of the city have affiliated themselves with the idea. The petition contains a total of one hundred and seventy-one names.

Since being filed the paper has been the foundation of more or less discussion in the city.

Even though the idea should meet with the approval of the commission, it is unlikely that the revised ordinance will be effective during the present bowling season. City Attorney Lange at the present time is patiently awaiting the enactment of several statutes upon which a revision of several ordinances, particularly that one covering that of minors playing in pool halls is concerned.

First Party of New Club at Apollo Hall Last Night Draws Big Crowd Who Have Enjoyable Time.

The first annual party of the recently organized Arcadia club was held at Apollo Hall last evening, and aside from being a success from every angle it was one of the prettiest parties of the present season. More than one hundred couples were in attendance.

A four-piece orchestra of Madison furnished the music, a snap and a tuneful program which, with the opening of the first number, completely captivated the dancers and brought forth repeated encores during the entire evening. The music was of the type which appeals to the younger dancers, although there was a large number of older couples present.

In vogue with the present necessity of a tonic demonstration, a huge American flag was draped above the orchestra shell and gave a very fine appearance. It was a most enjoyable party.

THE WHATCHAMA COLUM (By George Martin.)

Gas Meters.

Does your gas meter sit in your kitchen and stare at your wife? Or has it the decency to go down cellar and stay there?

Our sits in the kitchen. And we don't like it. It's so glum. It makes us nervous. Every time we begin to cook it clicks its tongue at us. Not loud, but enough to be aggravating.

It knows all the time what it's doing to us. And it knows we know.

What does the gas company send out a gloomy thing like that to take your money away from you for, anyhow? Does a gas meter have to be so melancholy? Can't it be bright and cheerful? Is there any good reason why it shouldn't smile and be happy, even if it does rob you while you're away for the summer?

News Notes From Movieland

By DAISY DEAN.

The arrival of Kenneth D. Harlan, new leading man, at large studio the other day created a real stir of excitement among the girls. Kenneth is a real nice looking chap, which accounts for the interest that was immediately shown in him by Bessie Love, Pauline Starke, Winifred Weaver, Constance Talmadge, Mildred Harris and several other actresses who are yet in their teens.

The leading man is a college graduate and is 22 years old. He first engaged in amateur theatricals in New York and afterwards graduated to the speaking stage. He was in stock two seasons, afterwards in vaudeville and attracted wide attention when appearing with Gertrude Hoffman in "Sumurun." He is said to be a skilled pantomimist and dancer as well as an actor.

WOMAN'S PAGE

Heart and Home Problems

By Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson
Letters may be addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in care of The Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I have a boy friend who is angry with me. He never loved me like this before. He has a friend who is older than he is and I think he has put him up to it. Should I speak first or should he?

(2) Is it all right if you meet a couple of boys at an amusement park to go to some side shows and on a picnic with them if they insist and if your mother is alone and gives you permission?

(3) Is it all right to dance with boys at a public dance at the age of thirteen?

(4) Is it all right for boys and girls in the same neighborhood to have good times together?

DOT AND BETTY.
I speak pleasantly when you meet him. But if he comes back when he sees that you are not annoyed in the least. If your mother gives her permission it is all right. But if she does not, it is not right. You should have good times to them.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Is it all right for a girl only 21 years old to marry a man who is 40, if she is sure she loves him?

(2) When a man is ready to leave after taking you to a dance and when he calls again and at what time, what should the girl say if she intends to be at home every evening during the week?

(3) Which one should rise first when he says he must go?

(4) Should she help him on with his coat and hand him his hat or should he do these things himself?

(1) Nineteen years is too much difference in the ages, especially as I do not believe you are positive that you love him. There have been happy marriages with that difference, but very rarely.

(2) Set a night for him.

(3) He should rise first.

(4) Let him attend to his hat and coat.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Please advise if it would be improper for a girl to appear at a masquerade ball in a costume that is not her own.

There are so many pretty and unique costumes from which to choose; don't you think you can select one that is in better taste?

(1) Is it proper for people between seventeen and twenty-three to play kissing games at a party?

(2) Is it proper for a young man to take a girl home from a party if he did not go with her?

(3) It is very bad taste for people to play kissing games.

(4) It is proper if he did not go with another girl or she with another boy.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: There is a gentleman who comes to see me twice or three times a week. I love him very much. I love him so much that I want to marry him. But I am not sure that he will propose. I am not sure that he will propose. I am not sure that he will propose.

Both the husband and wife would be happier after a confession. Since she knows enough to make her worry she should be told all.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: If a man has done a disreputable act and he is married, should he tell his wife about it? Should he tell her about it? Should he tell her about it?

Both the husband and wife would be happier after a confession. Since she knows enough to make her worry she should be told all.

I was sorry to note that you condemn boracic acid treatment for the eyes. Just what is the normal salt solution you advise for bathing sore or weak eyes? (Mrs. A. V. S.)

Answer—I have never condemned boracic (boric) acid. I said it was no way of strengthening or helping for normal eyes or merely tired or congested eyes, but that it is merely a non-irritating, mild antiseptic for inflamed eyes. Neither the normal salt solution nor boracic acid is a cure for the eyes. It is not hygienic or wise to bathe any mucous surface habitually with a notion of improving on nature's ways of preventing trouble. Normal salt solution is a solution of plain salt about the same salt strength as the tears (the blood serum)—a heaping teaspoonful of salt in a pint of boiled water.

Household Hints

SANDWICHES.
Bacon—Fry some bacon crisp; crush it and mix with a little mayonnaise and mix it with a little mayonnaise. Use it for filling between slices of white bread.

Cheese—To a cup of ground cheese add a little paprika sauce, olive oil and chopped parsley. Mix well and spread between slices of white or rye bread.

Salmon—Pick apart with a fork half a cup of salmon, add to it one-fourth cup finely cut celery. Season with boiled or mayonnaise dressing.

Ham and Nut—Put equal parts of seeded raisins and nut meats through food-chopper; moisten with lemon juice.

ECONOMY DISHES.
Ham Biscuits—Take recipe for baking powder biscuits; roll to one-fourth inch thickness, cut into rounds. Spread half of rounds with minced ham moistened with melted butter and seasoned with minced onion, parsley and paprika. Cover with remaining rounds and bake in hot oven fifteen minutes.

Peel and Slice Thin four medium-sized onions; fry in pan with salt and pepper to taste. When brown on one side turn and fry brown on other side. Pour over this one cup of milk and one-half cup of water into which stir one heaping teaspoon flour. Let thicken and put ham in gravy to heat through. This is good and cheap; will serve three people.

APPLE DESSERTS.
Applesauce With Banana—Core large apples and in the centers put banana, filling the hole as full as possible; bake, basting with sugar and water.

German Apple Sauce—Make some light colored apple sauce; put into flat dish, sprinkle thickly with chopped almonds and dust with cinnamon. Serve plain or with cream.

Apple and Cream—Peel some large apples and core them; put a pint of water to boil with a large cup of sugar; put in apples and cook until transparent. Put in cream and cook until thick. Arrange these in a deep dish. Measure the sirup, and to a pint add a heaping dessertspoonful of gelatin dissolved in a little cold water. Strain and when cool pour a little at a time over the apples till they are covered with the jelly. Turn out on a glass dish; surround with whipped cream.

DATE BREAD.
This is an original recipe and is good for children as well as grown-ups.

One cup corn meal, one cup graham flour, one cup white flour, one cup milk, one cup chopped dates, one-quarter cup molasses, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon baking powder, one pinch salt. Add baking powder to white flour, the chopped dates to corn meal, graham, bran and white flour; one half teaspoon soda to sour milk and one-half teaspoon molasses to the last. Put in bread pan and let rise half hour; bake in slow oven one hour.

SIMPLE HOME REMEDIES.
Group Remedy—One teaspoon grated alum, two teaspoons sugar.

Dose, if patient is real croupy: Heat a funnel shaped real lead sprinkler with camphor or turpentine put on the chest as hot as can be borne; then give one-half teaspoon of the remedy and cover up warm. Can assure night's good sleep. Rub Vaseline or scraped raw potatoes to a burn; immediate relief.

EXPLAINS BABY WEEK AS NATIONAL AFFAIR

Written for the Gazette by Mrs. Elta R. Goodwin of the Federal Children's Bureau.

NOTE—Mrs. Goodwin conducts all the Baby Week correspondence for the Children's Bureau and may be addressed at Washington.—Editor.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The second National Baby Week will be celebrated in the United States May 1 to 6, inclusive. My correspondence today indicates that a majority of the 14,000 incorporated communities in the country will take part in it.

Please don't get the wrong idea of Baby Week. It is not a sentimental outburst. It is a serious movement to popularize certain proved principles of baby care and community responsibility for baby welfare.

The keynote of a Baby Week campaign is co-operation. This was true of the 1916 celebration and the inquiries pouring in at the Children's Bureau today and the local plans already under way indicate that the co-operation is even more universal in this year's campaign.

Of course the 2,500,000 members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs are co-operating. The General Federation and the Children's Bureau were jointly responsible for the first campaign for a nation-wide Baby Week.

The way chambers of commerce and other men's organizations of various kinds, and national associations direct, turn in and help is surprising. Most impressive is the work of state health officials and of extension divisions of state universities and agricultural colleges. These work with state federations of women's clubs and with each other in outlining special programs adapted to the conditions of an individual state and they help local celebrations in numberless ways, with lectures, exhibit material, bulletins and personal advice.

Each of these agencies is equipped to make its own special contribution to the campaign—the child-welfare committees which are being organized in women's clubs of every type, the special committees studying local health conditions, the associations doing infant-welfare work, the public health officials of city and state, the state universities through their extension work, and civic organizations of various kinds.

Our correspondence indicates that they all recognize in Baby Week a unique opportunity.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Appleton, Feb. 6.—When you hit your thumb with a hammer—think of the League of the Kindly Tongue. It is for just this kind of emergencies of life that this organization was formed three years ago. The local chapter celebrated its third birthday last week and its members vow their language is a pure as that of a child who has celebrated its third birthday. Cheers were raised in many states and in foreign countries. Rev. William Marsh of the Methodist church here is organizer of the movement.

Milwaukee, Feb. 6.—Jacqueline Reuter, who is in the house of correction here again today after her 113th arraignment in the district court on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, but she doesn't mind "it" since and quiet out there at the house of correction," she said. "I'd as soon be in as out." Her son Frank was in court this week for fighting with his father.

By RUTH CAMERON
SIDE TALKS
"I ALWAYS DO."

What funny things habits are! I don't mean bad habits, or good habits. Just little harmless, useless habits, things we do not for any particular reason but just because we have gotten into the habit of doing them.

For instance, when I go into a library to read or study I always try to sit in a certain chair. I sat there first because there were certain books near it that I wanted to consult. But I always make straight for that chair. If someone else has it I feel vaguely aggrieved.

I might think this was a personal habit of a common characteristic but I have had so many proofs to the contrary.

For one, I often meet certain people in the library and have noticed with interest that almost invariably each occupies the same chair.

They Get Used to a Room.
Again a hotel man tells me that he has a great many guests who insist on the same room each time they come. "Isn't that because they think it's the best room in the house?" I asked.

"Not at all," he said. "Just because they've had it once before and got used to it."

Again, I went down the street the other day with a neighbor. There are two ways of getting down street. There is no perceptible difference in distance or in the beauty of the scene.

I started to go one way—the way I usually go. She hesitated and looked surprised. "You wanted to go the other way?" I asked. "Well, no. I don't care," she said. "Only I always do."

She has had so many Good Times There.

Another woman always sits at the same table at her favorite restaurant. "I have had so many good times there," she says.

I know some of my younger readers (if I have any) are thinking this is all nonsense. "What reason is it always do it for doing anything?" they say.

What indeed?

To any normal person under twenty it is a pretty good reason for doing the opposite.

And for anyone between twenty and thirty it doesn't weigh much one way or the other.

Of course there are a few people who are born old in matters like this, but with the majority it is only when one begins to look backwards as well as forwards, to have associations as well as anticipations, that such habits begin to crystallize.

Word of warning. If you let it go too far, this tendency can bind and hamper you and interfere with your normal existence and even make you a nuisance to yourself and others. Like all tendencies harmless in itself, it needs to be controlled with common sense.

Everyday Wisdom By DON HEROLD

LET IT GO, OLD MAN. MR. JONES YOU ARE ENTIRELY TOO CONSCIENTIOUS ABOUT YOUR PEAS.

Peas are perhaps our most inconvenient and troublesome vegetable. Peas in the vegetable world are analogous to fleas in the mammal world. The flea is our greatest jumping mammal; the pea is our greatest jumping vegetable.

It is utterly impossible to get any pleasure out of eating peas if you regard peas as individuals. In eating peas, the law of averages must be regarded, if you really wish pleasure out of the task. Peas must be eaten en masse. One cannot be a conscientious pea eater and enjoy his meal, nor, in fact, get enough sustenance to repay him for time and effort. Seventy-five out of 100 peas is a fair average, and as long as you eat about 75 per cent on your pea eating, it doesn't pay to bother about the vagrant 25 per cent. Simply be careful where you step as you depart from the dining room and leave the rest to the maid and the vacuum cleaner. All careful housewives now follow pea dinners with vacuum cleaners.

The culinary and silverware sciences have strained themselves in an effort to devise an efficient and thorough pea implement, and every humorist in the world has treated of the pea, but peas are just as filthy as ever. No doubt the proposition will be solved by electricity, and the satisfactory pea, finally, will be a magnetized pea—that is, its own personal propositation.

UNCLE SAM MAY HELP STATES CARE FOR WHITE PLAGUE VICTIMS
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Washington, Feb. 6.—A resolution would be made thoroughly national, with indigent sufferers from the plague maintained jointly by the Representative Hiliard of Colorado, a student of tuberculosis and methods of fighting it, sponsored the bill to provide for immediate designation of hospital and sanatoria already established, for the treatment of the white plague. To these would be assigned cases of consumption.

Provision is made for the treatment of indigent tubercular cases. The government would pay 50 cents a day each for such patient and the state in which the patients reside would pay $1 a day.

Marjory Set's Clyde to Thinking With the Statement of an Unpleasant Truth.

"Then hast thou loaves of bread, sell one and buy hyacinths; for bread nourishes the body, but hyacinths nourish the soul," repeated Marjory, who had entered the room where young Set was propped up in a chair, looking as if he were a vase full of hyacinths, in front of her at arm's length. "Are they beautiful?"

"They certainly are," replied Clyde. "Your mother sent them. She keeps the whole house fragrant with fresh flowers," continued Marjory, setting the vase on the table by the window and giving them a final touch of arrangement.

"Shall I read?" continued the girl, drawing up a rocker and settling herself comfortably.

"No, let's talk," replied the young man. "I have been lying been thinking since I have been lying in bed. I have been thinking since I have been lying in bed. I have been thinking since I have been lying in bed.

"Really?" interrupted his companion incredulously. They had been quite friends during the long days of convalescence.

"Well, I think I am thinking it answers the same purpose as far as I am concerned," he answered easily. "You said something the other day that I did not understand. Something about the look behind Dad's eyes. What did you mean?"

"Marjory did not answer for some minutes, then as the young man looked at her she said: 'I do not believe you would want to hear it. I would rather not tell you.'"

"Really, you make me curious, and when my curiosity is aroused, and life has a real zest."

"Do not talk that way. It makes me shudder. You came too near to losing your life," interrupted Marjory with a frown on her face.

"Clyde laughed lightly. 'I am afraid I have lost it already,' he remarked, throwing his head back among the pillows and looking at the ceiling.

"Really?" interrupted his companion incredulously. They had been quite friends during the long days of convalescence.

"Well, I think I am thinking it answers the same purpose as far as I am concerned," he answered easily. "You said something the other day that I did not understand. Something about the look behind Dad's eyes. What did you mean?"

PREVENTION OF HEMORRHOIDS

Hemorrhoids, or piles, are dilated or varicose veins in the rectum, precisely analogous to the condition known as varicose veins in the legs, or, as they say in Boston, the lower extremities. To speak of "curing" any of these venous lesions, by means of either remedies or local treatment, other than surgery, is equivalent to sending for a sample of the green cheese of which the moon is made. But prevention is better than cure, and piles are preventable. An "attack" of piles is another way of saying periodic manifestation. Once you have them, you are always going to have them, and the blessed life cures you. Between attacks, however, you may be quite unaware of their presence. Even after radical surgical treatment, which is at any rate painful and rather than the life itself, you are no means immune to future trouble from piles, for while a properly completed operation puts you at each and every point you have at the time, there is nothing about it that prevents you from going on developing new piles in the future, as in the past, if your mode of living changes the same. Surgery of course does not remove all the veins of the hemorrhoidal plexus. Only the obviously dilated tufts are removed or destroyed.

The hemorrhoidal or pile-plexus of the rectum is a part of the portal system (the veins carrying blood from digestive tract to the liver). Hence, it tends to congest the liver, and obstruct free drainage through the portal system, also increases the tendency to piles. Overeating, or indigestion, or alcohol. But much more

MARKS ANNIVERSARY OF NOTABLE TREATY SIGNED WITH FRANCE

February 6, 1917, will be the anniversary of the signing of the famous Treaty of Alliance between the United States and France, the only treaty of the kind ever entered by the United States, cementing a friendship that has endured until now and one that is destined to endure forever.

Early in the days of the American revolution, when the colonies were fighting for independence and for the rights of a people, France had lent them secret aid in money and military supplies, but it was not until the French government had recognized the United States as an independent nation and by the treaty, offensive and defensive, had bound itself to fight together with the American people for that independence, neither to conclude a separate peace, nor to allow the tide of battle to begin to turn.

Washington would not have succeeded without the aid given to the American people by the French government. King Louis XVI and the French people, Washington fought England with his hands tied. The continental government had no executive, and congress, afraid of a standing army, would authorize only short enlistments, so that Washington frequently had to discharge one army and form another in the face of the enemy. His troops were poorly equipped and still more poorly supplied with clothing, arms and ammunition. Many of the soldiers in New England, New York, Virginia and the south greatly discouraged the patriots and it requires no deep study of our nation's history to bring to the mind the realization of the fact that, but for the soldiers and ships, the funds and support given by France, the revolution would have been crushed. Without the French fleet which blocked the mouths of the James and York rivers, the decisive blow could not have been dealt by Washington at Yorktown. The able leadership of the Marquis de La Fayette was shown nowhere in the revolution more brilliantly than in this crisis. His quick eye saw that the British army, to cut off possible escape by the British, he urged Washington to hasten with his army to Virginia. Accompanied by Rochambeau, the French troops the Yorktown campaign, the result was the surrender of the British and his army.

In signing the Treaty of Alliance, as well as in the participation of French soldiers in the revolution, the French advisers knew the nation was in a financial disaster. In entering the war France had no other object than to help us secure our freedom and independence. The aid rendered and the sacrifices made by Lafayette and his companions in arms were prompted and compelled by the nation-wide enthusiasm of the French people of all classes for the American cause.

The American society for the relief of French war orphans, in issuing an appeal to the people of the United States to aid it in its efforts on behalf of the children of France made fatherless by the terrible war that now involves the greater part of Europe, calls attention to the fact that the anniversary of this treaty of Alliance could be chosen for a practical demonstration of this nation's friendship for France. For her generous and selfless services to the United States in the most critical period of our history, Washington pledged, on behalf of the citizens in the United States to France, the most unalterable gratitude and an unforgettable, imperishable record.

What more appropriate time could there be for paying off a portion of this debt of gratitude than the anniversary of the treaty? What better way could there be in which to pay it than by sending generous aid for the support and education of the needy children whose fathers have lost their lives in the defense of their homes and country? Today France is engaged in a struggle that threatens her existence as a nation. Her people are heroically and self-sacrificingly facing the unparalleled calamities of the most disastrous war the world has ever known, and are facing them in a spirit that has thrilled the world. The nation's burden of debt is appalling and the cost of maintaining the conflict thrust upon it continues unceasingly to grow larger. The government is month to month in need of funds, but the sum of $3 for each orphan is needed, and the American society is seeking to provide the necessary $3 per month additional to support as many of these destitute orphans as possible during the winter.

It was for the purpose of raising funds by voluntary contributions to be used for the aid of needy French children made fatherless by the war, that the American society for the relief of French war orphans was incorporated under the laws of the state of New York. The society undertakes to secure of its members, collection and distribution of funds thus contributed, and every cent of all donations will be used for the care of the orphaned children of France. Affiliated with the American society is the organization heretofore known as The Fatherless Children of France, with offices at 100 Fifth Avenue, New York City, which will cooperate with and act as an arm of the American society. Requests to many inquiries as to whether or not war orphans may be brought to this country for adoption or to be under its charge it has not, in such object. Its sole purpose is to provide aid and support in France, to the orphaned children of France, and being able to return in some way to the great service so generously rendered to us nearly a century and a half ago when we were poor, weak and friendless.

Every American man, woman and child who contributes to the aid and support of the French orphaned, orphaned and destitute in these days of war helps to repay part of the debt which we have long owed to a great, generous and noble people and never discharged. It would indeed be worthy of a sublime and imperishable record in our own history if the present generation of Americans out of their sympathy should now raise and apply to the relief of the French people in suffering a fund commensurate with the debt which France so generously rendered for us in our distress and in the days of Washington and Lafayette.

Donations in any amount to the French War Orphans fund are solicited by the society. Checks or post office money orders should be made payable to the American Society for the Relief of French War Orphans, 100 Broadway, or to the Fatherless

Children of France Branch of The American Society, 665 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

I. W. W.'S. BLAMED FOR WARSHIP TROUBLE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 6.—The Minister for the Navy, J. A. Jensen, in an address before Parliament has just disclosed the fact that some persons unknown, but presumably members of the Industrial Workers of the World, cut all the electric connections on board the newest Australian warship, the cruiser Brisbane, while she was in the navy shipyard at Cockatoo Island, Sydney, last fall. Mr. Jensen said: The persons who did it are not known but I instructed the manager that any members of the I. W. W. found working at the Island should be dismissed. In addition to the cost of repairing the serious damage done the department has been put to a great deal of expense in providing special detectives at the yard. Special interest attaches to the Brisbane because she is the first armored cruiser to have been constructed entirely by Australian labor.

WOULD RAISE PURSE TO SEND CARDINALS TO I. A. C. TOURNEY

Enthusiastic Backers of Basketball Team Want Their Pets In I. A. C. Games This Month.

Janesville almost as a whole for the past five years has shown a great deal of pride in its championship basketball team, but it remained this year for a trio of golf devotees, a lady and two men, to come forward with the suggestion to Manager George W. Caldwell that he "take the Cardinals down to Chicago the 10th, 20th and 21st of this month and 'clean up' the I. A. C. central states tournament."

The idea has appealed to Cardinal followers and already a purse has been started to send the Lakotas to the games. If the amount of money required to cover the expenses of the trip is obtained the local team will be in the central west games at Chicago the week after next.

Suggestion that an organized effort be made to raise the money has been quickly taken up.

JIMMY LAVENDER IS TO PITCH FOR PHILS

Jimmy Lavender.

Jimmy Lavender, who has been pitching for the Chicago Cubs since 1912, will appear in a Philadelphia uniform next season. Lavender goes to the Phils in exchange for Al Denarcie, who, by the way, has been active in the baseball strike. The deal was an even trade with no money consideration. Lavender pitched good ball for the Cubs last season.

MORRIS MILLER

Different motives actuated Milton Stock in returning, unsigned, his contract to the Philadelphia Nationals. He is the fifth member of Pat Morris's crew to join the hold-on circuit.

In spite of Pitcher Dazzy Vance's bad showing with Columbus last year, Roger Bresnahan seems willing to take a chance on him, for it is announced that the Toledo magnate has purchased his contract. There'll be something doing if Vance attempts any of the Dazzy stuff with Roger, who is a hard-boiled guy and not sparing with the lash.

The schedule meeting of the National and American leagues will be held in New York on February 13.

Pitcher Earl Yngling, who was to get a chance to come back to the big show this year with Washington, has announced that at his wife's request he has decided to give up the game and go into business in his home town of Lebanon, O. Whether he means it or not remains to be seen.

Shortstop Ernie Johnson, now attached to the St. Louis Browns, wants to be with George Stovall again and has asked that in releasing him the Browns make an effort to land him with the Vernon team. It was Stovall who induced Johnson to jump from Los Angeles to the Reds.

Ed Dugdale, the Seattle mogul, who was strong for a rule in the Northwestern league against clubs taking players under option, is now said to have repented and to be seeking a working agreement with the Portland Coast league club by which he can use its surplus players.

Zack Wheat's retirement talk was started right after the world's series, when he said he much preferred farm life in Missouri to playing baseball. In a few years Wheat has made a little fortune out of slaving on the diamond and he can afford to take an independent stand.

The Peoria club has signed Outfielder Roy Wolke, who was with Galveston in the Texas league last season. Five years ago Johnson looked like a corner, when the Ottumwa club sold him to San Francisco. He failed to make good there, however, and gradually has dropped back in class.

Outfielder Roy Wolke, who was with Rock Island in the three-league last season until he drew his release because of injuries, is now a free agent and is considering several offers to return to the game. He is wintering at his home in Morris, Ill.

It seems that Joe Gardner, former owner of the Dallas Texas league club, didn't sign Fred Beck after all, in spite of announcement to that effect. Beck, it is said, has been released, given him a quick release, for report from Peoria has it that Beck has signed to play with the Distillers again.

Pitcher Ray Fisher of the New York Yankees has been engaged to give a series of lectures at the Springfield, Mass., Y. M. C. A. training school for athletes. In addition to giving mental demonstrations in the art of pitching Fisher also will coach the students of the school in signals generally.

Hugh Duffy being appointed coach of the Hartford University baseball team, sold his Portland Eastern league club to Hiram Abrams, who expects to continue it in Portland, though there had been talk of transferring it to some Massachusetts city in order to shorten the jumps in the Eastern league.

SUBSTITUTE TRIO FOR BOXING SHOW WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Without Local Boy, Kid Meyers, Freeport and Milwaukee Men Are Withdrawn, But New Men Have Been Secured.

Three changes in the card offered by the Southern Wisconsin Athletic association and scheduled for tomorrow night at the Auditorium, were announced today by the promoters. Most important to the backers of Kid Meyers of this city will be the information that he has been withdrawn.

Kid Nichols, also of here, has consented to take his place.

For a while yesterday afternoon and last night it appeared as though the entire program would have to be postponed, but after a free use of both telegraph and telephone wires it is possible for the promoters to hold the show and all five bouts just as scheduled.

Word from Freeport said that Young Bell, who was to hook up with Meyers, had broken his foot in training and that under the circumstances he would be unable to be here. Meyers had previously withdrawn. Nichols was secured to take his place, and after feverish work a 128-pounder in the person of Eamon Rockford was secured to appear against Nichols.

Eddie Boehme of Milwaukee, matched with Battling Check of Sheboygan, will fight tonight at Milwaukee. The result of this match was asked the S. W. A. A. to postpone his appearance here, as he did not believe that after appearing tonight he could do justice to himself by fighting Wednesday night. Then, more expense was used in telephones and telegrams, and a lad by the name of Eddie Harris of Milwaukee was secured to substitute for Boehme.

Looking over Harris' record it appears that he will offer a better opposition to Check than Boehme could. Harris has been given the decision over Boehme by sport scribes and has also fought a draw with Check. Their battle tomorrow night should show up either one or the other, and as the result of their 50-50 split in their previous meeting it is foreseen that these boys will be in the ring to win Wednesday night.

Reports from Beloit are that Battling Swann of this city will have his hands as the result of this match. Swann, however, will go into the ring with every determination to get his second victory over a Line City fighter. Young Bud Corbett was his last victim.

Clayton Weber and Charlie Lyke, the Battling Farmer of La Prairie, today claim themselves fit. This bout is expected to be as good as any vaudeville show.

George Adams of Chicago and Young Kick of Rockford should put up a good exhibition, ten rounds at 118. The Forest City lad is a regular speed demon and so is Adams, for that matter, who already having had a "closeup" before local followers of the game when he so cleverly took Charley Henderson down a couple notches at the last show of the S. W. A.

The bouts will commence at 8:15 sharp, the early start being necessitated because of the five fights scheduled. Rockford and Beloit fans will be here en masse to cheer Kick and Peck, respectively.

WILL THE OLD MEN ON THE RED SOX HOLD UP NEXT SEASON?

Jack Barry, new Red Sox manager, may be troubled with old age among some of his best men next season. A number of the world's champs are reaching the point where signs of decrepitude begin to appear and it is likely that they have played their fastest ball. Hooper, Lewis, Hoblitzel, Gardner and Barry himself, plans to continue at second, all have been in the big show seven or eight years and it will be more than remarkable if they do not soon begin to slow up. This one item, more than anything else, will probably give Barry quite a little worry next season.

CUTSHAW'S SALARY CUT; HE WILL QUIT

New York, Feb. 6.—From Brooklyn comes the word that George Cutshaw, second baseman of the Dodgers, has decided to cut out baseball and go to work during the summer. No definite reason for Cutshaw's determination to leave the game has been given, but it is known that no baseball magnate—Ebbetts not barred—can cut his contract salary and get away with it.

Cutshaw is one of eleven Dodgers who saw the salary taken off several hundred dollars a season, but he is the only one who has taken the stand that it's better not to play at all than for the reduced figure. His work most of the summer was up to his ordinary style, which is very good baseball. But when the world's series came across George didn't. He was charged with the loss of at least two ball games in that memorable farce, and his batting simply wasn't there.

Cutshaw was deeply hurt by the fact that he was held responsible for losses in the big games. He realized that he hadn't played as a ball player of his class might have been expected to, and he wended his way from Brooklyn with a weight of worry over him. This may have more than a little to do with his sudden determination to retire.

Cutshaw has been known for a long time and has been praised for his aggressiveness and nerve in Brooklyn. Consequently, when he fell down on his nerve in Boston the praise got a little reverse-english. That hurt Cutshaw. He had the name of driving in more runs than any manager of Brooklyn. This may have more than a little to do with his sudden determination to retire.

For many years Connie Mack has been trying to develop a left-handed pitcher who could fill the shoes of his former southpaw stars, Rube Waddell and Edgie Plank, but he has never succeeded. Mack has been unsuccessful in the long list of left-handers tried by Mack are Roger Simon, Lefty Russell, Danforth, Herb Pennock, Harry Krause and Rube Bressler.

KING ALBERT'S CAFE ATTRACTS GERMANS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Havre, France, Feb. 6.—The most crowded cafe in Havre is that showing the sign "To King Albert." The Germans made the proprietor cover up the name of the King on the outside of the cafe, but have not interfered with the inside decorations or fittings, though these all refer in one way or another to his majesty.

The principal part of the cafe is a long broad corridor the walls of which are tapestried with ornamental leather, and at the end of the corridor is a life-sized portrait of the King in general's uniform topped with the royal arms and encircled with electric jets. All the glassware and coffee cups are inscribed "To King Albert," and out of these the Germans as well as Belgian frequenters of the cafe drink.

JOFFRE'S ELEVATION IS REALLY A FIRING

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, Feb. 6.—The elevation of General Joffre to the rank of Marshal of France appears to have eliminated him entirely from any effective connection with the army. The general public is slow to comprehend the fact but discreet references in the press leave little doubt as to the fact. Prior to the decree that named Joffre technical councillor to the War Council he was the Commander-in-Chief of all the French armies. The two decrees that were issued simultaneously with that which raised him to the rank of Marshal annulled the decree that made him councillor to the War Council. In the meantime other decrees named General Nivelle commander-in-chief of the French armies operating in France and General Sarrail commander-in-chief of the Saloniki expedition. Another decree made General Joffre responsible for the conduct of the war. Consequently, Joffre is Marshal without a command and without any other function excepting that member of the Superior War Council that has not run as such since the beginning of the war.

It is held also that Joffre ceased to be a member of the Superior War Council the moment he was placed in the field in face of the enemy. The new Marshal, the first to have been named under the third republic, is, according to some papers, Rivesalte in the Basses Pyrenees. Others insist that he is still at the home in Paris. The Petit Parisien says that he has already in readiness the barge with which, according to his declaration to the American newspaper, correspondents he longed to make a voyage by river and canal through France.

"Joffre's barge," says the Petit Parisien, "is moored on the left bank of the Seine in a solitary spot near Bougival where it has remained since the first days of the war. Nothing distinguishes it in outward appearance from other river barges."

"The interior, however, is most comfortably fitted up with study, reception room, library, salon and smoking room. No name is seen anywhere on the barge but the inhabitants of the locality who talk of it already as the 'Marshal's barge' declare that it is to be named 'The Swan.'"

Staple commodities are included in the general boosting of prices. Sugar has increased from 20 to 30 per cent; salmon, 30 to 100 per cent; wine, 20 per cent; beans, 30 to 40 per cent; grain and canned goods, 10 to 20 per cent; and fuel 20 per cent. The cost of wearing apparel has also gone up. Also rice.

The war is made to indirectly shoulder the blame for Japan's unusual economic situation.

"But conditions differ according to the commercial status of each nation," says the Mochi Shimbun in connection with the H. C. of L.'s conquest of Nippon. "Among the causes that underlie the rise in Japan's market prices, are the increased cost of war materials, the prosperity of foreign trade and the abundance of money. The redundancy of gold and the expansion of convertible notes must also be said to have a significant influence."

When the facts are kept in mind, say the peace promoters, no one need be alarmed at the sum voted for Japan's naval armaments.

H. C. OF L. TAKES UP RESIDENCE IN JAPAN

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Tokio, Feb. 6.—That modern terror, the High Cost of Living, has today invaded Japan, a country long famed for feeding and clothing its people on a mere pittance. It is estimated in economic circles here that prices of all kinds of goods have increased on an average of 40 per cent.

Staple commodities are included in the general boosting of prices. Sugar has increased from 20 to 30 per cent; salmon, 30 to 100 per cent; wine, 20 per cent; beans, 30 to 40 per cent; grain and canned goods, 10 to 20 per cent; and fuel 20 per cent.
